

FAMILY DEVELOPMENT IN THE NATIONAL LEGISLATION OF SOCIAL-PSYCHOLOGICAL IMPORTANCE

Rakhimova Raykhan Abdurasulovna

Researcher of «Family and Women» Research Institute

Annotation: The family founded the psychological aspects of youth a young family that is ready at any level of development of social - psychological the word about the importance of doing them. In this article, plays any role in the life of the human family and the society about the effects of our thoughts also are doing.

Keywords: Family, psychological understanding, the young generation, family law, society, kindship, parents, brothers, sisters.

The family system plays an important role in social relations. Family legal relations in marriage, blood-bound with mutual rights and obligations specified in the norms of the law of kinship relations embodied within individuals becomes. The siege is a lifetime human birth in the same environment and lives with family members. Thus, the members of the human family is in a different relationship with people and the surrounding. This relationship is different, among them the kinship, friendship, neighborhood, patriotism, spiritual, ethical, religious, family relationships can add. Also for some reason a part of this relationship using regulation by state law, this relationship is a legal relationship.

The conclusion of the marriage, the family and the birth of be valid, the birth of children, and nurturing their material supply be regulated by the relevant institutions and legislation stemming from the fact in relationships – family-legal relations are called.

Also the people who go towards the development of human society themselves of them have with each other that the relationship among interpersonal most friendly relations, the improvement of close family relations, most also, you will get more complicated in a specific way. Because the development of the means of production and relations of modern science and technical development, agriculture, industrial production, in general, in all spheres of national economy, new technologies, technical processes and the rapid development of this process, the creator, the participants of the human factor, it is also put new requirements specific to the human person.

In the present day, on family issues among young people 90-100 years previous and present it to their peers form a more accurate picture of our day 15-16-year-old compared to the differences between guys and girls that we have, is quite different. Now modern science-intensive technical outlook of our children at times you are an adult, ethics, culture and life peers is radically different from the previous times interest also.

The results of the research on sexual acceleration in the process observed in humans in the last 100 years that their physiological ahead 2-3 years to reach puberty gone to spark. Also to reach the age of puberty the period of sexual 15-16 100 years ago, from the age of 12-13 years, while the average in the present day will come directly to this condition.

Currently, the training courses are being organized on psychological preparation to young people from different family. Standing on the threshold of building a new family, the young man's family is not ready is ready or to any extent, knowing that a study of understanding the concept of family to them about the family in the family the husband and the woman you want to be in the role of what order is explained. The building of a new family in the future, this implies the establishment of a new tier of society. Now that we can be the next day, the family in general and the establishment of may be divorce.

How come rising out misunderstandings in the family, society will also lead to cracked the effects of internal and external conflicts. For this reason, family psychology the new family to build a happy family focus on what important guidelines for the establishment of structure that you need to consider.

Family psychology, representing the most important knowledge to give them the form of appropriate on the basis of qualifications and skills, young people are ready for family life. While the subject of social and family psychology family ethnopsychological features make up the course.

Family psychology the objectives of the course consists of the following:

1. About the role the family at the age of the person the form full-fledged forms a picture.
2. Young people for family life and about the social and historical origins of the family are based on scientific knowledge about the changes that they come after familiarization with.
3. Changes in family life in the age, in which the inevitable happened, problems, based on research about law form a full picture of this process to prepare them.
4. ¹
5. The problems that arise in family life to give constructive to young people dying, to save destructive direction while you teach.
6. Family life in the age of the scientific in the way of specifics based interpretation of problematic situations from a rational psychological (and the negative effects without taking his family to the stability of the formation of skills that allows you to.
7. The selection of a life partner in the formation of skills on their age.
8. Prepare young people to communicate with family.
9. To teach young people about family planning.
10. In the preparation of the scientific basis of the sexual life of young people.
11. The young family that's a solid offering in the formation of knowledge and skills.
12. Educational and methodical work with the family to establish a diagnosis using cognitive psychological minds to correctly interpret the results that they get skills formation.

“Family – the small joints of this society, the husband-wife relationship the parent organization of motherhood and recovery through personal lifestyle of a particular view. The overall economic angles of a home, husband and wife, parents, children, brothers and sisters and other relatives would live together representing an important element of that.”

Important description 4 units from the definition of the family will come out like this:

1. The family social unit (a small social group);
2. Family – to form the organization of personal standards of living;
3. Family – the merger of the couple;

¹ Family law – Imamov N.F, Babayev I, Shorahmetova U.Sh, Topildiyeva B.R, M.K.Mehmonov

4. Family – the couple of other close relatives: parents, brothers, sisters, and grandfather and grandmother, the possibility of the establishment of multifaceted relations with children and their children.

The family itself as the direction of the research of his group social attributes that are specific features should not forget that there are. These are the following:

- not one of several general purpose; that is, you work with the team members re-united for the sole purpose of reference to recognize if such a goal during the life and family they can be multiple in the family, a change also. For example, see later in order to live in harmony with good intentions healthy children, kids, wedding, circumcision, to make preparation for school education to the children, wedding, marriage goals and dreams appear as a large number admiration for what is family life and its charm the content of these like couple goals and their implementation can be determined by like-minded people;
- the interests of family members, interests and aspirations, and certain variations of disagreement is that the natural condition; moreover, in this family, is expressed in the conflict between the representatives of the older generation with their children (inter-generation conflict), the difference in cases like this a lot also acquires the character or conflict constructively;
- a particular family who live in the husband-wife relationship, the relationship of other significant effects, for example, children upbringing level;
- other family relatives into compromise or understanding, for example, the effects of elders;
- Really felt the effect of the partnership between family members and its activities, for example, that the earth and its place in the family of the sessions, the role and function of a job and always be the woman's own is not going to join together.
- treated norms and mutual respect that is of great importance it is always much to look at each other's heart strength of the family factor is that;
- Family mutual secret, hidden, the negative impact of undercover work on family relationships.

Literature:

1. Karimova V. M. "Social psychology and social practice" in tashkent. The university. 1999 y.
2. Family law – n. f. Imomov, Babayev, J. I, U. Shorahmetova Sh, Topildiyev B. R, M.K. Mehmonov
3. Family psychology – V. Karimova